Bev Aisbett is a widely published cartoonist, illustrator and author as well as an exhibiting artist. Her work has appeared in the major press, including the Sunday Age, Herald Sun and the Bulletin .She is best known for her best selling illustrated self help books for sufferers of anxiety and depression: “Living with IT” and “Taming the Black Dog”

Lee Asette was born in 2006.

He is Bev’s male alter ego. His style is bold and minimal in contrast to Bev’s whimsical dreamlike images. His influence is a background in photography and a passion for design. Lee prefers to paint structures, such as the bridges of the Western suburbs and organic forms.
